8. Only the Grand and Reserve Champion Carcass will sell at the Summit County Fair Auction.
9. You must be available, if you're the Grand or Reserve to go Take a picture with you Carcass for a poster for the livestock sale.
10. You are responsible for getting a buyer for your carcass unless you are keeping it for your own meat. You are responsible for processing fees. You may have a buyer lined up but they must be aware if you win Grand or Reserve, you will sell at fair and they either buy it at the auction or someone else will. GRAND AND RESERVE SELL AT THE AUCTION AFTER LIVE HOG GRAND AND RESERVE. Again if your carcass does not win Grand or Reserve you will be responsible for the processing fee and must find your own buyer. PARENTS ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR MAKING SURE THE PROCESSOR GETS PAYMENT.
11. You must show a least 1 live hog animal at the fair for each of the carcass you show.
12. The judge will determine the overall Grand and Reserve. The Grand and Reserve will have to meet the industry standards to be considered Overall Champions. If none of the animals meet these requirements there will not be a Grand or Reserve selected.
