What is a VFD?

A VFD is a written (nonverbal) statement issued by a licensed veterinarian that authorizes the use of an approved VFD drug or combination VFD drug in or on an animal feed. This written statement authorizes the client (owner of the animal) to obtain and use animal feed bearing or containing a VFD drug or combination VFD drug to treat the client's animals only in accordance with the conditions for use approved by the FDA (Food and Drug Administration). (1) The client (youth producer) must establish a veterinarian-client-patient relationship (VCPR) to be able to get a VFD. This is true whether the 4-H member has one food-producing animal or several.

When must the VFD be implemented?

January 1, 2017. Starting January 1, 2017, you can no longer stop by a feed store and buy a bag of medicated feed containing certain types of antibiotics that were previously classified as over-the-counter (OTC) drugs. As of January 1, 2017, the FDA requires that clients have a VFD to be able to purchase animal feeds containing these antibiotics.

What is a VFD drug?

Antibiotic drugs required to have a VFD order to be added on or in the feed are those deemed by the FDA to be medically important for human medicine. The FDA is concerned that improper or overuse of these antibiotics may contribute to antibiotic-resistant bacteria making it harder to treat human illnesses. Examples include Aureomycin®, Lincomix®, Neo-Terramycin®, penicillin, and tylosin. For a complete list refer to the "Drugs Transitioning from OTC to VFD Status" link at the end of this document. These antibiotics are no longer allowed to be used for production uses to enhance growth or improve feed efficiency. They are still allowed for therapeutic uses under veterinary supervision to (1) treat animals diagnosed with an illness; (2) control the spread of illness in a herd; and (3) prevent illness in healthy animals when exposure is likely.

Drugs that do not require a VFD are those that are not deemed medically important to humans. Examples include Rumensin®, Bovatec®, Medacox®, monensin, amprolium, and dewormers. These types of medications can still be used over-the-counter (OTC) for production uses to enhance growth or improve feed efficiency, as well as for therapeutic uses (treatment, control and prevention).

What species of animals require a VFD?

Cattle, swine, sheep, goats, poultry, honey bees and fish, as well as other food-producing species, even if they are not intended for food production. For example, backyard chickens kept as pets still require a VFD for certain antibiotics to be legally added to their feed, and a prescription for certain antibiotics to be added to water.

What is a veterinarian-client-patient relationship (VCPR)?

Most states have a definition of what constitutes a valid VCPR written in current law, including Ohio. Ohio law and related regulations are designed to ensure that a veterinarian does not prescribe drugs or recommend treatment without actually seeing the animal or animals in question. To establish a VCPR in order to obtain a VFD, you need to first identify a veterinarian who you wish to work with if you do not already have one. To write a VFD and otherwise treat your animals, the veterinarian must personally see your animal(s), become acquainted with their care, and have done so recently enough that he/she can make medical judgments. To write a VFD, this likely means the veterinarian will have had to examine your animals in the last six months, as that is the longest period of time for which a VFD can be written.

While all licensed veterinarians in Ohio can write a VFD or a prescription for water-based antibiotic drugs, all may not choose to work with food-producing animals, as they may elect to practice veterinary medicine only in their clinic or on specific species.

Veterinary Feed Directive (VFD) Fact Sheet for 4-H Youth

Livestock Producers and Families

Why do I need a VCPR?

The veterinarian is the person most qualified to determine when an animal needs a specific medicine, how much of that medicine it needs each day, and how long it should be administered. By being involved in this process the veterinarian can ensure appropriate drug use, minimize the chance of bacterial resistance developing, and keep antibiotic residues out of our food supply.

How can I establish a VCPR?

The first step is to find a veterinarian who is willing to treat your 4-H project animals. It is up to you to initiate a VCPR, and should be done before you get your 4-H animals. You can look for veterinarians in your area at the Ohio Veterinary Medical Association website (www.ohiovma.org) under the public tab and search by city. If you already have a veterinarian, but he/she has not seen your animals in over a year, you may wish to contact him/her to ensure he/she can work with you on obtaining a VFD if and when you need one. Think of a VCPR as a relationship similar to what you would have with your family doctor.

- (1) The veterinarian writing the VFD or prescribing medications must be licensed within the state where the animals are being treated.

Am I going to be able to get medicated feed?

YES. The steps and process are more involved because you can no longer just go to a feed store and buy certain medications to mix in with your feed or buy medicated feeds containing medically important antibiotics. Producers must get a VFD order from their veterinarian and then send or take the VFD order to a feed distributor to get the VFD feed. Your veterinarian may send the VFD directly to where you buy feed.

When I buy my show pigs (for example), will I still be able to get a couple bags of medicated feed from that producer?

If the medicated feed contains an approved VFD drug, you must have a VFD before getting that feed. Your veterinarian must see these pigs to be able to write a VFD. Plus, the producer must be a distributor complying with FDA's distributor requirements to be able to distribute a VFD feed to you once you provide them with a VFD order.

What about feeding water soluble medications?

Beginning January 1, 2017, all antibiotics important to humans that are administered through drinking water will require a written prescription from your veterinarian. You must have established a VCPR to be able get a prescription to buy these drugs or products. Although a VFD and a prescription are not the same, you need to have a VCPR to obtain both. The VFD rules only apply to medically important antibiotics fed on or in feed products, while a prescription applies to many products including medically important antibiotics administered through drinking water. For a list of drugs transitioning from over-the-counter to prescription status, refer to the "Drugs Transitioning from OTC to Prescription Status" link at the end of this document.

What about feeding milk replacer?

Milk replacers are considered feeds. If using medicated milk replacer containing an approved FDA drug mixed with water or mixed with feed, you must have a VFD. Medicated milk replacers will no longer be labeled for continuous feeding and therefore will not be allowed to be used continuously.

How often do I have to get a VFD?

There will be a VFD expiration date that defines the period of time for which the authorization to feed an animal feed containing a VFD drug is lawful. The expiration date specifies the last day the VFD feed can be fed to an animal or group of animals and under the regulations cannot be longer than six months. A VFD feed or combination VFD feed must not be fed to animals after the expiration date on the VFD. You must contact your veterinarian to request a new VFD order.

Veterinary Feed Directive (VFD) Fact Sheet for 4-H Youth

Livestock Producers and Families

What are my responsibilities as the client (youth producer) when using antibiotics important to humans in feed?

- (1) Only feed animal feed bearing or containing an approved VFD drug or a combination VFD drug to animals based on a VFD issued by a licensed veterinarian.
- (2) Do not feed a VFD feed or combination VFD feed to animals after the expiration date on the VFD.
- (3) Provide a copy of the VFD order to the feed distributor if the issuing veterinarian gives you the distributor's copy of the VFD. The veterinarian may send the VFD order directly to your feed distributor.
- (4) Keep a copy of the VFD order for a minimum of 2 years.
- (5) Provide a VFD order for inspection and copying by the FDA upon request

USE GOOD MANAGEMENT PRACTICES TO PREVENT DISEASES (and the need for a VFD)!

- (1) Observe your animals daily.
- (2) Make sure your animals have adequate shelter and enough space relative to their stages of production.
- (3) Maintain their pens. Keep the pens clean, making sure bedding is clean and dry. Remove sharp objects. Make sure flooring and footing does not cause injury or lameness.
- (4) Provide adequate feeder space, a nutritionally balanced diet relative to their stages of production, and clean, cool water made available at all times.
- (5) Handle your animals properly.
- (6) Proper ventilation and temperature are important for performance, growth and the health of your animals.
- (7) Follow recommended biosecurity guidelines to keep diseases away!
- (8) Consult a veterinarian when questions or issues arise.

Rally class progression:

“B” classes can be repeated by the same youth regardless of what dog is shown, provided the handler/dog team are not the class winners. Once winning a Rally Intermediate class, the exhibitor is encouraged to move to the Rally Advanced A class, however, they can remain in the Intermediate level till able to perform all exercises off leash. If/when a handler/dog team wins first place in a Rally Advanced B class that team must then move to the Rally Excellent A class.

Rally classes are as follows:

Each “A” and “B” class is broken into age groups; this applies at the County level ONLY.

8-11 years of age

12-14 years of age

15-18 years of age

It is the RESPONSIBILITY of the exhibitor, advisors, and parents to read and understand all the current Uniform Rules for 4-H Horse Shows, and Summit County Jr. Fairboard Horse Committee rules. A rules acknowledgment form and quiz must be signed and returned by June 1 with the Fair packet to the appropriate Summit County Jr. Fairboard Horse Committee coordinator(s).
2. All Summit County Jr. Fairboard Horse Committee members, 4-H members, parents, siblings, and advisors attending the Summit County Fair will be bound by the General Rules and Regulations of the Summit County Agricultural Society (SCAS) and the regulations outlined in the Horse Division. Any parent/advisor witnessing any type of misconduct, including animal abuse or violation of these rules, Fairgrounds rules, or the 4-H code of conduct, is encouraged to report such misconduct promptly to the SCAS or Summit County Jr. Fairboard Horse Committee coordinator(s). A written report must contain the rule, which was violated, the 4-H member's name who violated the rule, the project horse's name, and if anyone else was involved (i.e. trainer, other 4-H member, etc.) that person's name, as well as definitive proof. This information will be kept confidential. Misconduct may result in one or any of the following: loss of high point, loss of versatility eligibility, and/or dismissal from the Fairgrounds.
4. Shots and coggins test results from the current year (January 1 – June 1) (state rule) are due June 1.
Exception – rule 41

Checks and money orders are to be made payable to SCAS Jr. Fairboard.

Fees must be postmarked by June 1. A late fee of $150.00 will be assessed after June 1 to each entry who does not meet the June 1 deadline for all components of division/project animal. The outstanding fees and late fees must be paid in full by the start of the July Summit County Jr. Fairboard Horse Committee meeting, unless other payment arrangements have been made with the committee coordinator(s).
8. A fee for each NSF check, equal to the bank's fee, along with the amount of the NSF check, must be paid by cash or money order within 30 days of notification and before the Monday of Fair week.
9. A 4-H member may bring multiple horses to Fair in the same year, sibling/second horse rates apply. There will be one horse per stall. Only one horse is eligible for versatility. A 4-H member may choose to show the same horse in multiple divisions, sibling/second horse rates apply unless prohibited by the State Rule Book.

JR. FAIR DEPARTMENT HORSE

10 If any person other than the 4-H member is riding the project animal at the Summit County Fair, the 4-H member and all other 4-H members involved will forfeit all points for versatility and high point awards and will be ineligible to show the remainder of Fair, except for parents/advisors during designated times.

11 Only exhibitors may sign up to speak with the steward and judges. Parents are prohibited from talking to the judge.

12 No one is allowed to approach the announcer's stand at any time. Any questions or concerns may be directed to the appropriate horse committee member in the office or on call in the Low Family Pavilion Building.

13 All horses stabled on Summit County Fairgrounds must have emergency information adhered next to the latch on the stall in a clear manner. This information shall consist of the 4-H member's name, a contact person's name, club name, advisor's names, and camping lot numbers (if applicable) or emergency phone number. The contact person must be 21 years old and provide a contact number.

14 Summit County has determined that hitting a horse 4 or more times with a crop, whip or whop is excessive.

15 All horses must be stalled in the barns. All tack and equipment must be placed or stored in assigned tack stalls or horse trailers. No hay or feed may be stored in the barns. Hay bags may be used at the exhibitor's own risk.

16 Lunging will be permitted before shows and during breaks. No free lunging in any rings unless in a designated Horse Committee approved area. No turnout in ring A or ring B. Ring C will be used as a turnout pen by reservation using the signup sheet in the Saddle Horse Building/Lowe Family Pavilion.

17 Bits will be checked by an approved committee member/volunteer, Judge or Fair Steward. Judges have the right to recheck a bit at any time. Exhibitor's lead for Trail in Hand must be a minimum of 6 feet long, rather than the 12 feet listed in the rule-book.

18 There will be a strict 2-minute gate call for all classes. Exhibitors are to monitor the classes in the rings. Announcements are not always broadcast over all speakers.

19 The Summit County Jr. Fairboard Horse Committee may select outside association patterns for use at the fair including an AQHA ranch or reining patterns or any other patterns we choose to use. Patterns will be made available no later than the day before the start of Fair (except for Showman of Showman and Versatility patterns).

20 These rules are based solely on Summit County Jr. Fairboard Horse Committee regulations.

Contest Speed and Control. If a participant is circling the box prior to entering the box and crosses the timer, no penalty will be assessed. The participant may cross the timer line as many times as is necessary prior to entering the box. The two-minute gate call will be strictly enforced, and the horse/rider must enter the box prior to the two minute time limit. The timer begins for this class when the horse/rider exits the box and stops when the horse/rider returns to the box.

Western Riding. No 4-Her will be disqualified for using simple lead changes instead of flying lead changes in any western division. Correct flying lead changes will be scored higher than simple lead changes. The rider will receive a penalty for each simple lead change. See State Rule Book for all penalties.

Road Hack. A riding class judged similarly to pleasure/hunter under saddle where exhibitors will show an extension of gaits including walk/trot/jog, canter/lope, extended trot/jog and controlled hand gallop. The horse/rider will be judged on the horse's ability to show a difference in the gait. It's NOT about speed; it's about having a distinct difference between the regular and extension of gaits. No more than 8 horses may hand gallop at one time during a class (per Uniform Rules).

Disciplined Rail. An equitation class in which the rider performs maneuvers as a group, as a rail equitation class (no individual work). It tests the skills of both the horse and rider gaits, transitions and movement requested by the judge. The rider will be judged on correct posture, smooth gait transitions, and effective use of aids, with special emphasis on light hands. The performance of the horse is not to be considered more important than the methods used by the rider in obtaining that performance.

JR. FAIR DEPARTMENT HORSE

Safety for Rider/Horse

21 All 4-H members and other minors attending 4-H related events at the Fairgrounds must have adult supervision (parent/guardian over the age of 21 or approved 4-H advisor).

22 If any lightning is seen, all classes will be suspended for a 30-minute period. Classes will resume 30 minutes after the last lightning is witnessed and Fair steward deems it is safe to continue. Fair steward may cancel or postpone any class if unsafe conditions exist.

23 If the heat index reaches 90 or above, all exhibitors may wear short sleeves or cap sleeve shirts. An announcement will be made if these conditions are met.

24 Condition of the Show Rings. The overall condition of the show rings shall be determined by the Fair steward. The show judge has the final decision if the class must be modified because of the condition of the show ring. The final decision on participation lies in the hands of the participant and his/her guardian.

ALL SPECTATORS MUST STAY 5 FEET AWAY FROM ALL SHOW RING FENCES INCLUDING ALLEY WAYS TO RING A

25 Do not tack your horse in the aisle.

26. Do not enter anyone else's stall without the owner's permission and/or being present.

27 Please keep your stall, aisles, and wash rack clean and clear of manure or anything else that can create a mess.

28 All horses are to remain in designated areas. No horses are allowed in the camping area, park, or pavilion areas. No horses are allowed past the bathroom or on the driveway. No horses or animals are to be left alone while tied outside of the stall.

29 Bareback riding is allowed only in designated fun classes. No other bareback riding at any time.

30 You are not permitted to stop motion in any practice ring. (No stopping and gathering at rail).

31 A Green ribbon in a horse's tail designates an inexperienced horse or rider.
A Red ribbon in a horse's tail designates a horse may kick.

32 No riding in barns. Horses must walk to and from rings.

33 Any class where a judge calls for a hand gallop, only 8 horses may gallop on the rail at one time.

Dress Code

34 All 4-H members and adults must wear proper closed toe shoes whenever they are handling a horse. Long pants, boots, and show number must be worn whenever mounted. All apparel must be appropriately worn in style and modesty. Midribs must be covered. This applies to any equine area of the Fairgrounds during the Fair. Advisors are to monitor their club members and families.

Horse Project Animal

35 An "entry" is defined as a one horse/one rider combination that entered the appropriate forms to be recorded in a division. The number of entries in a division is determined by the number of entries recorded at the end of the July Summit County Jr. Fairboard Horse committee meeting.

A "participant" is defined as a one horse/one rider combination who actually competes in a class at Fair.

A "project" is defined as one horse per child.

If two 4-H members share a horse, only one child is using the horse as a project; the other is participating at the Fair with the horse. This must be declared via email to the Summit County Jr. Fairboard Horse Committee at the time of registration.

A "class" is defined as one specific event in a division.

JR. FAIR DEPARTMENT

HORSE

36 Each 4-H participant must volunteer a minimum of ten (10) hours for the first horse/rider combination. Additional horse/rider combinations and/or divisions require an additional five (5) hours before the current year's Fair. Volunteer hours can be earned during any scheduled Fairground workdays beginning the day after the previous year's Fair, as well as at any open show or PAS show hosted by the Summit County Jr. Fairboard. To ensure hours are recorded properly, a 4-H member or representative must sign in and out, clearly indicating the 4-H member they are working for. The top two 4-H participants with the highest total number of volunteer hours, provided they have a minimum of 25 volunteer hours above their expected duty, will receive an award.

37 To compete at Fair, the 4-H member must complete the following:

A 4-H horse project book (including a one-page summary and visual aid) and 2026 Summit County Equine Record Book for the current year. Project verification is subject to OSU Extension Office review. Completing a project includes having a horse project book judged by the extension office deadline.

Complete OSU's Equine Safety Training Education Program (EquiSTEP). EquiSTEP Certificates may be emailed directly to the Summit County Jr. Fairboard Horse Committee or may be uploaded when submitting your Fair Registration on the Google Form.

Any requirements that may be put in place by the 4-H Extension Office, The Ohio State University 4-H Horse Program or the Summit County Jr. Fairboard Horse Committee

38 If a horse is leased, it is the 4-H member's project until the animal is dismissed from Fair.

39 Proof of inoculations for Rhino pneumonitis, Influenza, Tetanus, Eastern and Western encephalomyelitis and a current calendar year's negative coggins test are required before the project animal is brought to the Fair. When signing up for fair, you may use the three pictures on your coggins test and just add one more of your horse's hind quarters. If pictures are not included on your coggins test, four pictures will need to be submitted (one from each angle).

Proof of vaccinations (or proof of purchase) are to be turned in at the time of registration and dated between January 1 and June 1 of the current year. Self-administered vaccinations require paid proof of purchase (picture of receipt). Additional vaccinations recommended by the Fair veterinarian may be required at a later date. Any questions of animal health will be determined by the Summit County Fair's equine veterinarian on Monday of Fair. The veterinarian's decision is final. Failure to comply will result in disqualification from Fair.

40 The following deadlines must be met:

June 1 Fair packet due-including fees, leases, medical forms, and academy horse form if needed

July 1 Any Project changes (without penalty)

Changing of the Project Animal & Regression of Divisions

41 Projects may be changed before July 1 without penalty unless regression of riding level is requested. To change a project, an email must be sent to the Summit County Jr. Fairboard Horse Committee explaining that a change is needed. Any changes must be approved by the Summit County Jr. Fairboard Horse Committee.

A new entry will need to be submitted for the new project including project photos, shot records, and a current calendar year's (January 1 and 14 days prior to fair) negative Coggins test. Shot records (or proof of purchase) must be dated between January 1 and 14 days prior to the animal arriving at the Fair.

42 A request to regress a division (from current division) will be allowed if deemed appropriate by the Summit County Jr. Fairboard Horse Committee. Eligibility for high point/versatility will also be determined at that time. These requests must be submitted to the Summit County Jr. Fairboard Horse Committee by email with specific information by June 1 Possible reasons: new horse does not canter safely, is gaited, is green, etc.

All requests for regression will be discussed at a regression committee member only meeting in June.

If there are enough regression requests, the decision may be made in July to add another division. If there are not enough regression requests, the committee will decide whether to allow the 4-H member to simply audit the class and not be eligible for high point/versatility or maintain high point/versatility eligibility.

A first year walk trot champion or reserve champion may elect to show walk trot a second year but will be required to submit a regression email request.

If there are not enough riders to complete a division, and the horse committee deems it necessary, the horse committee may allow riders of a different division to bring an additional horse to fair. JR. FAIR DEPARTMENT HORSE

Riders must wear a club shirt of conservative style with long or short sleeves, a long or short sleeved western style shirt or a long or short sleeved English show shirt, breeches or jeans, and riding boots. No sleeveless shirts.

Walk-Trot games riders must only walk or trot while mounted. No canter strides are allowed for Walk-Trot classes. One or more canter strides is cause for a 15 second penalty for the class the canter occurred in.

During classes where a specific task needs to be completed, as long as the horse remains behind the designated marker, the motions of the horse do not matter. Once the rider is done with the task and the horse comes back from beyond the marker they must remain on the designated path for this class.

Fun Classes High Point awards are calculated using all fun classes.
